Annual Report Review 2023

Managed Portfolios

During the second half of 2022 both bond and equity markets struggled amid high inflation and rapidly rising interest rates. Equity and bond markets managed to bounce back in Q4 '22 from the lows of the year with large cap growth stocks, particularly technology, leading the way. Improved global supply chains, easing of restrictions in China on technology firms and Covid protocols and declining inflation in the US helped improve sentiment. However, recession fears remain on the horizon, the Russian / Ukraine conflict keeps geo-political risks in view and central banks are expected to continue their fight with still high inflation in the second half of 2023.

WS portfolios rose during the period led by the more aggressive funds with higher weightings in equity. Our US and Brazil equity positions led gains overall. Within bonds, Emerging Market local and hard currency bonds led the broad sector along with high yield. Within the alternative sector, our positions in property, specifically infra-structure and our HSBC Multi-Factor fund led gains. Recent changes included adding a US technology equity position, Korean equity and on the back of recent declines in longer duration bonds we added US 7-10yr Treasury position and reduced corporate bonds. We continue with a defensive allocation that includes sectors such as healthcare and consumer staples along with a positive bias towards Japan, US & Emerging Markets while being underweight UK & Europe. We are underweight bonds overall with a positive bias towards UK gilts and Emerging Market debt. We remain overweight to alternative, specifically infra-structure while reducing our overweight in cash.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Board of Directors of HSBC Managed Portfolios Limited

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of HSBC Managed Portfolios Limited (comprised of World Selection - 1, World Selection - 2, World Selection - 3, World Selection - 4 and World Selection - 5) (the "Fund"), which comprise the statements of assets and liabilities, including the statements of net assets, as of June 30, 2023 and the related statements of operations and changes in net assets for the year then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Fund as of June 30, 2023, and the results of its operations for the year then ended in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAS"). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Fund and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of management for the financial statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern for one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control related matters that we identified during the audit.

Other information

Management is responsible for the other information included in the annual report. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report on page 1 but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information, and we do not express an opinion or any form of assurance thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements, or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

2. Significant Accounting Policies

The accompanying financial statements are prepared in accordance with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles ("U.S. GAAP"). The Fund meets the typical characteristics of an investment company and is therefore applying the accounting and reporting guidance under Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification ("FASB ASC") Topic 946, Financial Services – Investment Companies.

The significant accounting and reporting policies adopted by the Fund are as follows:

- (a) Investment transactions and income
Investment transactions are recorded on the trade date. Realized gains and losses on investment transactions are calculated on a weighted average cost basis and are included in the statements of operations.

Discounts and premiums on debt securities are amortized over the life of the respective securities using the effective interest rate method.

2. Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

(b) Valuation of investments

In accordance with U.S. GAAP, fair value is defined as the price that the Fund would receive to sell an asset or pay to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. Accounting guidelines for fair value measurements establishes a framework for measuring fair value, and a three level hierarchy for fair value measurements based upon the transparency of inputs to the valuation of an asset or liability. Inputs may be observable or unobservable and refer broadly to the assumptions that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability.

Observable inputs reflect the assumptions market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability based on market data obtained from sources independent of the Fund. Unobservable inputs reflect the Fund's own assumptions about the inputs that market participants would use in pricing the asset or liability developed based on the best information available in the circumstances. Each investment is assigned a level based upon the observability of the inputs which are significant to the overall valuation. The three-tier hierarchy of inputs is summarized below:

- Level 1 – observable prices and quoted prices in active markets for identical investments
- Level 2 – other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar investments, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, etc.)
- Level 3 – significant unobservable inputs (including the Fund's own assumptions in determining the fair value of investments)

The inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, for disclosure purposes, the level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurements falls in its entirety is determined based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

Investments are valued as follows:

- Investments in investee funds are valued based on reported net asset value per share as provided by the administrators of the investee funds. Private investment companies measured using net asset value as a practical expedient are not categorized within the fair value hierarchy.
- Securities that are listed on a national securities exchange are valued at the last reported sale price on the last business day of the year. In the event that a sale does not occur on the last business day of the year, such securities are valued at the "bid" price as reported by the principal securities exchange on which such securities are traded. To the extent that these securities are actively traded and valuation adjustments are not applied, they are categorized in Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy.
- The fair value of debt instruments is estimated using various techniques, which may consider recently executed transactions in securities of the issuer or comparable issuer, market price quotations (where observable), bond spreads, fundamental data relating to the issuer, and credit default swap spreads adjusted for any basis difference between cash and derivatives instruments. Cash equivalents are recorded as Level 1 within the fair value hierarchy. While most debt instruments are categorized in Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy, in instances where lower relative weight is placed on transaction prices, quotations, or similar observable inputs, they are categorized in Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy.

(c) Derivatives

Forward foreign currency contracts are recorded at fair value at the reporting date. The fair value of forward foreign currency contracts at the reporting date generally reflects the amount that the Fund would receive or pay to terminate the contract at the reporting date. Realized and unrealized changes in fair values are included in realized and change in unrealized gains and losses on derivative contracts in the statements of operations in the period in which the changes occur. Forward foreign currency contracts are categorized in Level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

Unrealized gains and losses on open forward foreign currency contracts are calculated as the difference between the contract rate and the applicable forward rate based upon rates reported in published sources on the valuation date, applied to the face amount of the forward foreign currency contract.

The Fund has elected to not offset assets and liabilities on its statements of assets and liabilities, including cash, that may be received or paid as part of collateral agreements, even when an enforceable master netting agreement is in place that provides the Fund, in the event of counterparty default, the right to liquidate collateral and the right to offset a counterparty's rights and obligations.

(d) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents includes cash balances, money market funds and short-term fixed deposits with maturity dates of less than 30 days from the date of purchase.

(e) Interest and dividend income

Interest income is recorded on the accruals basis. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date net of withholding tax.

(f) Rebate income

Rebate income is calculated based on investments in certain investee funds and is recorded on the accruals basis.

(g) Expenses

The Fund bears all operating expenses which are allocated between all Portfolios in proportion to the respective net asset value of each Portfolio unless the expense is solely attributable to a specific Portfolio, whereby it is allocated to that specific Portfolio.

(h) Use of estimates

Preparing financial statements in accordance with U.S. GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions in determining the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, including the fair value of investments, and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities as of the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of income and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(i) Foreign currency translation

Assets and liabilities denominated in currencies other than the base currency of each Portfolio are translated into the base currency at the rate prevailing at the date of the financial statements. Transactions during the year in currencies other than the base currency have been translated into the base currency at the rate of exchange prevailing on the date of the transaction. Realized and unrealized gains and losses on translation of investment balances are included in the statements of operations under "net realized (loss)/gain on sale of investments and foreign exchange" and "net change in unrealized gain on investments and foreign exchange", respectively. All other realized and unrealized gains and losses are included in the line item to which they relate.

(j) Mandatory redeemable financial instruments

In accordance with FASB ASC Topic 480, Distinguishing Liabilities from Equity, financial instruments mandatorily redeemable at the option of the holder are classified as liabilities when a redemption request has been received and the redemption amount has been determined. Redemptions are recognized as liabilities when the amount requested in the redemption notices becomes fixed, which generally occurs on the last day of the year covered by the financial statements. As a result, redemptions paid after the end of the year, based on the NAV of the Fund at year-end, are included in redemptions payable. Redemption notices received for which the dollar amount is not fixed remain in net assets until the net asset values used to determine the redemption and share amounts are determined. As at June 30, 2023 there were no redemptions paid after the end of the year, based on the NAV of the Fund at year-end, included in redemptions payable.

(k) Allocation of profits and losses

All investment income and loss, realized and unrealized gains and losses of each Portfolio are allocated to each class of shares outstanding on a weekly basis in proportion to their interest in the net asset value of the Portfolio.

(l) New accounting pronouncements

On March 12, 2020, the FASB has issued the Accounting Standard Update 2020-04 by adding Topic 848, Reference Rate Reform. The ASU is intended to help stakeholders during the global market-wide reference rate transition period. The amendments in this Update provide optional expedients and exceptions for applying generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) to contracts, hedging relationships, and other transactions affected by reference rate reform if certain criteria are met.

The amendment is applicable only to contracts, hedging relationships, and other transactions that reference LIBOR or another reference rate expected to be discontinued because of reference rate reform. The expedients and exceptions provided by the amendments do not apply to contract modifications made and hedging relationships entered into or evaluated after December 31, 2022, except for hedging relationships existing as of December 31, 2022, that an entity has elected certain optional expedients for and that are retained through the end of the hedging relationship.

There are no new accounting standards, amendments and interpretations to existing standards that are expected to have an impact on the financial statements of the Company.

12. Derivatives Financial Instruments and Risks

In the normal course of its business, the Fund may use forward foreign currency contracts to hedge its foreign currency exposure. The Fund attempts to protect itself against any adverse changes in foreign currencies to US Dollar rate. As such it is also precluded from participating in favorable exchange rate movements. Although the Fund attempts to minimize its foreign currency exposure, some unhedged foreign currency exposure may occur.

Forward foreign currency contracts are over-the-counter contractual commitments to purchase or sell a specified amount of foreign currency at a future date at a predetermined price. Forward foreign currency contracts expose the Fund to credit risk, which arises from the potential inability of counterparties to perform under the terms of the contract. Forward foreign currency contracts also expose the Fund to market risk to the extent that adverse changes occur in the exchange rate of underlying foreign currency that a perfect hedge is not achieved.

There were no outstanding derivative contracts for the year ended June 30, 2023.

13. Financial Instruments and Associated Risks

Price Risk

Price risk arises primarily from uncertainty around the future prices of financial instruments held by the Fund and represents the loss the Fund might incur through holding such instruments in the face of price movements. The Manager allocates the Fund's portfolio of investments with a view to minimizing the risk associated with particular countries and industry sectors.

Currency Risk

Currency risk is the risk that future changes in exchange rates will make financial instruments held by the Fund less valuable. Substantially all the investments of each Portfolio are denominated in the related base currency thus minimizing currency risk.

Interest Rate Risk

The Fund is exposed to interest rate risk to the extent that the fair value of the Fund's financial instruments may fluctuate with movements in interest rates. The Fund manages interest rate risk by investing in short duration debt instruments. The Fund may invest in other investment companies exposed to significant interest rate risk. The Fund's exposure to interest rate risk through its investment in investee funds is limited to its investment in such funds.

13. Financial Instruments and Associated Risks (continued)

Liquidity Risk

The Fund mainly invests in funds managed by an HSBC Group affiliate. The Fund invests in other investment companies that are not publicly traded or for which there is no liquid market. The Fund is exposed to liquidity risk to the extent that it is unable to realize its positions to meet liabilities and redemptions as they fall due in a timely and favorable manner. The liquidity profile of the Fund's investment portfolio as at June 30, 2023 is disclosed in the statements of net assets. The Fund manages liquidity risk by investing mainly in funds with daily redemptions.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that a counterparty will fail to discharge its obligation or commitment related to a financial instrument it has issued. Financial assets that potentially expose the Fund to credit risk consist primarily of cash and cash equivalents, investments, due from broker and dividends and rebates receivable. The extent of the Fund's exposure to credit risk in respect of these financial assets approximate the carrying values as recorded in the statements of assets and liabilities. Credit risk is managed by dealing with reputable counterparties.

COVID-19 Risk

The risk related to a novel coronavirus known as COVID-19 has declined significantly since last year. On May 5th of this year the World Health Organization declared it was ending the Covid global health emergency however it is still recognized that the virus could flare up in the future. With the decline in infections we have seen supply chains, consumer demand and travel either come close to or surpass levels prior to the onset of the virus in 2020.

Situation in Ukraine

Management acknowledges the situation in Ukraine continues to affect global economics, particularly regarding food and energy supplies. We continue to monitor the developments closely and have no direct allocation to either the Ukraine or Russia, however, there remains a high level of uncertainty regarding the effects of the conflict on global markets overall and as such on the funds.

Investments in Other Investment Funds

The investments in other investment funds (the "investee funds") are valued at their fair value. The fair value represents the amount the Fund would have received at June 30, 2023 if it had liquidated its investments. The Fund has the ability to liquidate its investments periodically depending on the provisions of the respective investee funds' offering documents.

The investee funds in which the Fund has invested utilize a variety of financial instruments in their trading strategies including equity and debt securities of both U.S. and foreign issuers, options, futures contracts, forward contracts, and swap contracts. Several of these financial instruments contain varying degrees of off-balance sheet risk whereby changes in the market value of the securities underlying the financial instruments may be in excess of the amounts recorded on each investee fund's balance sheet. However, due to the nature of the Fund's interests in the investee funds, such risks are limited to the Fund's investment in each investee fund.

At June 30, 2023, the Fund held positions in investee funds which utilized the following investment strategies as disclosed in the statements of net assets:

Bonds – This strategy mainly holds long bond positions in selective investee funds and government bonds with varying degrees of yield.
